

ROBERT WYLIE

Teaching Threat Detection and Mitigation

Learn how to identify threats from both animals and humans and how to deal with them.

For over 30 years, Robert has been dedicated to personal defense, but his life's most important lessons came from overcoming profound personal loss. As the founder of DPPDefense and the best-selling author of Defense Against Frogs, Dogs, and Humans (and everything in between), Robert teaches people how to identify and confront all types of predators from physical threats to manipulative tactics.

His work is driven by the belief that true safety starts in the mind. Robert is not only an expert in situational awareness and de-escalation, but he also openly shares his own experience of battling self-harming thoughts and the tragic loss of every member of his team to suicide. He believes that sometimes the greatest threat is our own internal struggle, and his mission is to empower you with the resilience, hope, and practical skills needed to protect your body, mind and spirit.

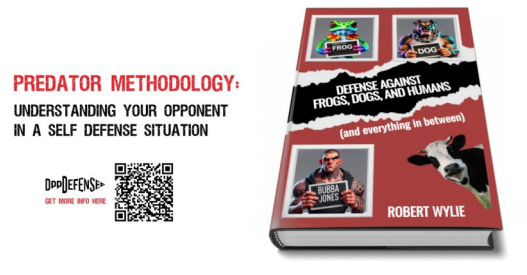

Topics

Defense Against Frogs, Dogs and Humans (and everything in between) - How to identify threats, master healthy situational awareness, and deal with aggressive animals and humans.

Hope And Healing After A Suicide Or Suicide Attempt - I share my personal experience of overcoming my self-harming thoughts and losing every member of my team to suicide.

DPPDEFENSE.com

"I love Robert's vision and knowledge on how to protect ourselves and our most precious family members-our children. Robert is the real deal. A caring human being who's passionate about caring for others." Denise Vance

Phone: 208-313-6578

Email: dppdefense@gmail.com

Website: dppdefense.com/speaking

"Very educational, it was nice to get some knowledge on how to not be a victim, how to identify predators, and how to defend yourself against any attacker" - Noel R.